Any ball sport – from tennis to basketball, from soccer to cricket – requires good coordination and keeping your eye on the ball. Whether the sport is played with your hands (requiring hand-eye coordination) or your legs (requiring connections between your eyes and your lower limbs), the chances are that if you focus on the ball and nothing but the ball, your performance will improve dramatically.